An unforgettable city

Barcelona is a modern and cosmopolitan city, but also one that has inherited many centuries of history. The Mediterranean and its openness to Europe define the character of the capital of Catalonia.

It enjoys a privileged location, on the shores of the sea, surrounded by mountains and is very well communicated by land, sea and air with other international capitals.

It can boast a valuable architectural and monumental heritage, with the high points of its splendour being the Gothic and Modernist periods, and the city is home to no fewer than nine buildings that have been declared World Heritage Sites.

Since the Olympic Games in 1992, the city has possessed a wide range of first class hotels offering innumerable comforts in accordance with European standards, and which are renowned for their excellent quality services and exceptional customer care.

Barcelona has developed into one of Europe's tourist hotspots, and especially for trade fairs, congresses, meetings and different events. Its perfect climate, the high quality of its hotel infrastructure and the increase in international fairs are factors that are held in very high regard indeed by visitors.

More than a club

FC Barcelona has more than 100 years of history and now has 160,000 members, making it one of the most respected and admired clubs in the world. It is known the world over for its attack-minded attitude to football as entertainment, while for its members and fans, FC Barcelona is considered 'more than a club'. Historically, this slogan has represented the club's sentiments and reflects the club's social commitments around the world.

Thanks to being a multi-sport organisation, the club now possesses some fabulous facilities, the Camp Nou stadium being the most emblematic of all.

FC Barcelona's Camp Nou stadium is one of the icons of the city of Barcelona and one of the most legendary venues in world football. Almost 100,000 spectators can enjoy magnificent nights in the biggest and most spectacular stadium in Europe, which was granted five-star status by UEFA.
